About The Event

We would love to have you join us as a sponsor at the 34th annual Ocmulgee Indigenous Celebration!

The second weekend in September welcomes Southeastern Native American artists, craftsmen, and educators who share their cultures through music, dance, demonstrations, and more.

According to the oral tradition of the Muscogee (Creek) people, Ocmulgee Mounds is "the place where [they] first sat down" after their ancestors ended their migration. We are honored to play a role in the current stewardship of Ocmulgee Mounds, and to be able to welcome back descendants of the first stewards to their ancestral Homeland during events like the Ocmulgee Indigenous Celebration.

Named one of the Top 20 Events in the Southeast by the Southeast Tourism Society, the Celebration shares this vital piece of American history with visitors; allowing them to learn about Native American heritage, arts, and cultures first-hand through interaction and observation.

Event Highlights

Celebration and acknowledgement of Southeastern Native American cultures

6k-7k visitors to Ocmulgee Mounds; experiencing the Celebration and investing in the park, its preservation, and the surrounding local economy

Southeastern Native American artists and visitors from all over welcomed to the ancestral Homeland of the Muscogee (Creek) people culturally accurate music, dance, and demonstrations with opportunities for crowd participation + traditional foods + pottery making + more!
